

Is List N enough?

Effectively combatting the coronavirus requires the use of disinfectants found on EPA's List N: Disinfectants for Use Against SARS-CoV-2. However, in these uncertain times, many contractors are offering services claiming to eradicate the virus without scientific knowledge or experience in proper disinfection.

If you are a decision-maker at a facility you want to feel confident that your hard-earned money is being well-spent and if you operate with a board of health, you want to make sure you can trust the information you receive, information verified by a third-party.

At Eco-Genesis Corporation, we provide the essential services that organize and verify the efficacy of disinfection treatment. With over 20 years of managing biohazards in environmental settings, assisting in the preparation, review and acceptance of disinfection, and a staff that includes Certified Industrial Hygienists (CIHs), infection preventionists (IPs) and licensed site professionals (LSPs), we possess the skills, training and expertise guaranteed to get the job done right.

For each and every project, we prepare a formal written General Disinfection Plan that includes verification of the specified treatment and certification upon completion. This allows you to document the protection of building occupants, outside contractors and the general public.

We continue to support and applaud the efforts of our clients, local municipalities, boards of health and our local communities during this crisis.
